BULLETIN.

Paris, Oct. 22.—Hurling a great army to the assistance of Serbia the Allies today have turned what looked like crushing defeat of the Serbian forces and possible annihilation, into a great victory. "Bulgarian army repulsed and Austrians held at bay," is the text of an official dispatch received this afternoon. The English and French troops arrived from Saloniki just in time.

London, Oct. 22.—A dispatch from Nish says that official announcement has been made at the Serbian capitol that the losses of the Austro-German army invasion has reached sixty thousand dead, wounded and prisoners. The Serbians said they have repulsed the invaders.

It is stated that among the Austrian-German prisoners are many officers. The dispatch denies that Bulgarians occupied Rlyna, Velassa or Knjazevac but confirms the report that they captured Istip and Kotechna.

Hammered Fore and Aft.

London, Oct. 22.—Hammered by superior forces on two sides, Serbia's armies are threatened with being crushed as no army has been crushed during this war. Not only are these facts admitted in England, France and Russia, but they are reflected in the official Serbian statements. The key to escape from the situation is the speed with which France and England can throw strong forces north from Saloniki, in hope of relieving the pressure from the Austrians in the north and the Bulgarians in the east.

Germans Claim Eastern Victories.

Berlin, Oct. 22.—Bulgarian troops have advanced south of Strumitza and have driven the forces opposing them across the Vardar river, it was officially announced today. The occupation of Taumono and Velez by the Bulgarians is announced. Von Mackensen's Austro-German forces have advanced in the north. General von Koenigs' troops having reached a line running from Aranyev to the Slatina mountain, while the army under General von Gallwitz advanced to the front, north of Ranova.

The Berlin announcement may mean the defeat of the entente troops, which were reported to have advanced into Serbia at this point, on their way to the assistance of the distressed Serbians, although recent advices have been that the allied reinforcements for the Serbians are being held at Saloniki. The Nish-Saloniki railroad in the section, south of Strumitza, follows closely the course of the Vardar river, and the reported Bulgarian victory may indi-

COUNTY OFFICERS UN-
EARTH SNUG BOOZE PLANT

"PHONY" CEMENT BLOCK CONCEALED HIDING PLACE FOR BOOZE AND BEER

It required three separate searches yesterday afternoon and evening before Deputy Sheriff Ed Robertson finally unearthed a "boozie plant" at 313 West Villas avenue.

The "plant" is located in a cement lined case on the property of Mrs. Lou Mathews. A large quantity of beer and whisky was confiscated.

"This is the sixth time I have been in raids on this place. We have traced the booze to the very gate and then were unable to get it. The stuff always mysteriously disappeared after reaching the Mathews place," said Robertson today. "But last night we traced a shipment right to the house, saw it go in, and yet when we searched the place, not a drop could we find. It looked like we were up against a brick wall, no to speak, and later developments proven that it was even stronger than that, it was a cement wall and a good one. After three trips to the cement lined cellar, where Mrs. Mathews kept her canned fruit we found the plant."

The cellar is made out of cement blocks and behind the cement blocks was found a sub basement in which the officers found 100 pint bottles of beer and ten quarts of whisky. An information was issued for Mrs. Mathews charging her with conducting the "plant." She appeared before Justice Hornaday today, pleaded not guilty and was released on a $500 bond to appear in court today. Mrs. Mathews is on trial today on a former charge of violating the prohibitory law.

When news reached the M. E. conference in session at Tulsa, that the supreme court had handed down a decision concerning the property in favor of the university, there was naturally some rejoicing by those who were interested in the school.

Steps were immediately taken to arrange for plans in raising the endowment and others matters which would naturally arise, and a commission of 15 men was appointed, consisting of 9 ministers and 6 laymen, which would have these matters in hand. These men are the pick men of the conference and are fully able to care for the interests of the school. Each man has had some experience in educational work and their plans will be the best that a body of such men could possibly produce. The following are the members of the commission:

REVIVAL WORK MAKING REAL
NECESSARY AS JOY OF GOOD
UPLIFT TONICROADS WORKREV. MANSFIELD MAKES LOGICAL PLEA FOR RELIGIOUS AWAKENING

Rev. R. T. Mansfield, advocating the need of a strong Christian revival, makes the following statement:

Some folks do not approve them. God seems to, however, since they are freely promised in His Word, and often given as facts in the experience of His people. Repudiating them denies the Bible, and one of the plainest things of religious history.

The need for religious revivals comes much as the need for renewal in other fields of life. All life has a strong tendency to deteriorate, let down, as seen in the physical body, in business and society. And the more delicate or sensitive the form of life, the more pronounced this tendency. The body needs frequent, special renewal or recreation; so does our social, business and political life. So does religious life.

But not every so-called religious revival is such in fact. Yet even this is also true in other vital fields. Nowhere does every endeavor yield all the fruit that some will promise for it. It may be called a physical restoration, a social awakening, a business revival, yet not be so at all. Why consider this fact strange in religious life, alone?

However, though, some efforts in these fields do fail, he is a little fellow who will stop at that; and he who would thwart honest efforts at renewals is foolish, or even worse.

A religious revival may or may not be brought in or introduced by a series

MARVELOUS WORK OF ROAD
LOGAN COUNTY

County commissioners and Guthrie citizens who witnessed the initial run of the big Case tractor on the Vine street road north from the city high school to the Cimarron yesterday, proclaimed it a big success. A full mile of splendid road bed was made by the big gasoline tractor with its trailing grader yesterday in less than an 8-hour shift.

A large crowd of people from the city and many farmers were on hand to watch the work; all were pleased and urged the commissioners to buy another tractor and graders for use on the county roads.

There is no experimenting with the Case tractor. It has been tested out at the factory and every defect adjusted before being placed on the market. It is guaranteed to do the work and it does the work and does it even better than the manufacturers promise.

On the ordinary highway the big power plow will finish one and a half miles of road bed in eight hours. The machine goes through a hillside without much more effort than when traveling over a straight stretch of roadbed, cutting the earth like a sharp knife cuts cheese and rounding out a perfect road.

The tractor bought by the commissioners is a J. I. Case, 25 horse power machine with a No. 1 grader, and was purchased by them only after careful investigation and study of the work accomplished in other parts of the

DIES AT LOCAL HOSPITAL

Esther Erixon, wife of Gustave A. Erixon, an attorney of Oklahoma City, formerly of Guthrie, died at the Methodist hospital at 9:45 last night. Mrs. Erixon underwent an operation at the hospital last Monday morning and was apparently on a fair road to recovery when a sudden relapse took place about 7 o'clock last evening, at which time, the physician and nurses in charge notified Mr. Erixon at Oklahoma City. Mr. Erixon and daughters, Lillian Evangeline and Florence Mercedes, arrived at the hospital in their automobile about midnight, but too late to be with his wife and their mother during her last moments.

Mrs. Erixon, nee Mankell, was born at Wilmar, Minnesota, and would have been forty years old on the 31st of this month. Besides her husband and daughters, she leaves surviving her, the following immediate relatives: Oscar Mankell and Otto Mankell, brothers, at Norway Lake, Minnesota; Mrs. Hulda Melgaard, sister, Argyle, Minnesota; Mrs. Amanda Landquist, sister, Minneapolis, Minnesota, and Mrs. Jennie Gorchhammer, sister, of Norway Lake, Minnesota.

TO THIS COUNTRY;
LANSING POWERLESS

London, Oct. 22.—The Foreign Secretary, Sir Edward Grey, has requested the American government to investigate the circumstances which attended the putting to death of Miss Edith Cavell, a British nurse, in Brussels.

Miss Cavell, who had been at the head of a training school in Brussels, was shot by order of the German authorities on the charge of having harbored British and French soldiers and Belgians of military age and assisting them to escape from Belgium.

A wave of intense anger, as well as a feeling of horror, has swept over Great Britain as a result of the nurse's fate. Miss Cavell was the daughter of the late Rev. Frederick Cavell, former Vicar of Swardston, Norfolk.

Amsterdam, Oct. 22.—Such details as it is possible to collect here concerning the death of Miss Edith Cavell are as follows:

The principal charge against her was of aiding Belgians to escape to England. It is stated that she hid them in her house and provided them with money and addresses in England, and helped to struggle them across the frontier. A German military court found her guilty and sentenced her to death by shooting.

The execution ground was a garden, or yard, in Brussels, surrounded by a wall. The German firing party of six men and an officer was drawn up in the garden and awaited the victim. She was led in by soldiers from the house nearby, blindfolded with a black scarf. Up to this minute the woman, though deathly white, had stepped out bravely to meet her fate, but before the rifle party her strength at last gave out and she tottered and fell to the ground, 30 yards or more from the spot where she was to have been shot.

The officer in charge of the execution walked to her as she lay on the ground motionless. He drew a large service revolver from his belt, took steady aim from his knee and shot the woman through the head. The firing party looked on as the officer quietly returned his revolver to its case and ordered the soldiers to carry the body to the house, where it was taken in charge by a Belgian woman, acting under instruction of the Spanish minister, who had undertaken the respon-
